

We had created our e-commerce site many years ago with Front Page. With the end-of-life for that program, I didn't have the time to learn all of the new protocols necessary to upgrade the site. I searched for someone to do the upgrade for us, and Dorene's qualifications were ideal for what we needed.

Once she started the job for us and we saw how great it was turning out, we started thinking of more enhancements we would like for the site. Dorene was up to every challenge we presented to her, and the result has been a smoothly-functioning e-commerce site that has worked well for us and also generated many customer commendations. We are often told how easy our site is to navigate.

Following the success of sundayschooldirect.com, we then enlisted her help for a total revamp of our consumer site, harmonychristian.com. Again, we threw some challenges to her which she handled very well. She was able to set us up with a consumer site containing an unlimited number of products (currently about 31,000) with very simple procedures allowing us to keep everything up to date.

We also had her do a redesign for mobile-friendliness when Google changed their ranking to require that. Again, she provided a quick and smooth transition.

I have no hesitation recommending Dorene for whatever your web site requires.
